Government delay puts back park's epicentre

HANNAH MIRSKY

BUILDING work on the epicentre at Haverhill Research Park has been delayed for at least a year.

The epicentre, which is meant to provide a base for a range of companies, had been scheduled to be completed this summer.

Planning consent was obtained for the epicentre in the spring of 2014.

It was due to receive £2m funding from local enterprise partnerships (LEPs), The Greater Cambridgeshire & Peterborough Enterprise Partnership (GCGP) and New Anglia Local Enterprise Partnerships (NALEP).

However, this funding has been put back due to a delay in guidelines on how to use it being issued from central government, according to Nic Rumsey, director of Jaynic, which is developing the park.

Mr Rumsey said: "Last July the government nationally announced that they were spending £1billion on LEP projects.

"Having publicly announced that in early July, they only in February this year issued the guidelines on how the money could be used.

"The time that the first announcement was made, we all thought that we were gearing up for a building contract starting onsite that year."

Now the guidelines have been received, they can begin looking for a building contractor again, he said.

Mr Rumsey added: "Obviously in the passage of time, people have down-tooled, a few months have passed.

"Once a building contract has been let, it will take nine months.

"We have been hoping to have it completed by September or October this year. Now I'd be happy if we had a building contractor by then.

"If we have a contractor then, it should be ready by summer 2016."

The epicentre will be a 30,000 sq ft four-storey building in the centre of the park.

It is expected to provide facilities for start-up and growing businesses, particularly in the ICT, biotech and agri-tech industries.

It will be run jointly with St Edmundsbury Borough Council and will also provide a coffee shop, broadband access and training facilities.

Currently, one business man has signed up as a "virtual tenant" – Paul Donno, who runs an online accounting business and is head of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce.

This means he gets to use the eipcentre as an address and has his post handled there until he is able to move into a physical office on the site.

Mr Rumsey says Jaynic is now focusing on timetabling the building work rather than signing up virtual tenants.

He said: "The virtual tenancies are really a victim of the timetable shift. I am loath to push hard for those until we have a timetable."

The residential part of the site is already operational. A total of 150 homes have been built by housebuilders Taylor Wimpey. Half of these homes have been bought, and 40 of them are now occupied.

The Flying Shuttle pub on the site is also operating, having opened early last year, and construction of an on-site Montessori nursery has begun, as reported last week.

Mr Rumsey says it is not yet known how long it will be before the research park as a site is fully up and running.

He said: "It could be ten years, or if we are lucky, it could be within two or three years. It's that vast a time range.

"We are in a very strong position. We've got the infrastructure, all we have to do is focus on putting up the buildings.

"We are hoping that it will ultimately deliver 3,000 quality jobs and will act as an engine for the town."

School children stay safe with high vis jackets

WE SEE YOU: Pupils at Stanley Drapkin Primary School with their new high vis jackets

CHILDREN at Stanley Drapkin Primary School in Steeple Bumpstead have received a useful donation – high visibility vests to keep them safe on the roads.

The 65 vests were donated to the school by Haverhill opticians Wardale Williams during Bikeability Week, in which Year Five students were educated about safe cycling.

The opticians will also be donating 90 visibility vests to the Haverhill Brownies later this month, 40 to Thurlow CEVC Primary School and a further 80 to Haverhill Scouts in April.

Wardale Williams' practice manager Emma Mobbs and practice supervisor Linda Power handed out the vests at Stanley Drapkin School during an assembly on the theme of "danger".

Headteacher Mary Nicholls said: "We have a high emphasis in our school on road safety and enjoy a wide range of special events and trips and will find the jackets extremely useful.

"This donation was particularly timely as it coincided with the whole of our Year 5 learning how to ride their bikes safely."

New homes target for graffiti vandals

HANNAH MIRSKY

BRAND-NEW homes in Haverhill have been daubed in graffiti by vandals.

The vandalism took place at some point between 8pm on Friday, March 20 and 10am on Saturday, March 21, in the Bloor Homes Tudor Croft development in Tudor Close.

Three houses were affected, on Romans Close, Tudor Close and Robin Close in the development, and there was blue graffiti on the fence of a residential property.

There was also graffiti which is thought to be related on a path on the development, and on an Anglian Water substation box on the roundabout that joins Bumpstead Road and Sturmer Road.

None of the residents affected saw or heard anything the night the vandalism took place.

One resident whose home was affected said: "I found about about the graffiti when the police knocked on my door on Saturday.

"I was pretty upset because we've only just moved in. Now I'm annoyed because we can't find anyone to remove it.

"Think about how much money and time it's costing people to get out and remove it. It's just not nice."

If anyone saw anything unusual or individuals acting suspiciously in the area on the night of the graffiti, they are asked to contact Suffolk Police on 101.

Members of the public can also contact Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Teenager charged with attempted robbery

A TEENAGER from Haverhill has been charged with attempted robbery and possession of an imitation firearm after an incident in Haverhill.

Police were called to the Cangle Road area of Haverhill around 10.30pm last Thursday, March 19 after they received reports of a weapon being pointed at a 16-year old.

Following the incident, a 17-year-old boy was arrested last Friday, March 20, on suspicion of attempting to rob the younger teen. He was then charged with both attempted robbery and possession of an imitation firearm.

He is due to appear at Bury St Edmunds Youth Court from 9.20am on Wednesday, April 8.

FUNDRAISING: Dan and Sara Nicholls with their 18-month-old daughter Bella, who suffers from the blood condition neutropenia

Couple appeal for help to raise money for daughter's hospital ward

A COUPLE are raising money for a children's ward that helped their daughter.

Sara and Dan Nicholls' daughter Bella, who is 18 months old, was diagnosed with the rare condition neutropenia last year. It means her body kills its own white blood cells, leaving her vulnerable to infection.

When she catches infections, she is treated in the C2 ward for children with leukaemia and blood conditions at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

Sara and Dan are now keen to raise money for the ward. "The first time she was admitted onto the ward was heart-breaking; it's a real eye-opener," said Sara.

She says the staff and the ward have been fantastic, and they are keen to give something back.

Sara is planning a fundraising evening on April 17 at the Tavern in Birdbrook at 7.30pm.

It will feature a raffle, with prizes including a meal out and a set of gel nails.

There will also be an auction, and appearances from clairvoyant Dave Vye.

Tickets for the evening cost £5, which can be paid as a justgiving donation.

Dan is planning a sponsored run of over 16 miles from his home in Haverhill to Addenbrooke's Hospital on August 9 this year.

To find out more, or donate visit justgiving.com/sara-nicholls2.

If you would like to donate a raffle prize, email Sara on saranicholls1@hotmail.co.uk.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Three awards for silver band

HAVERHILL Silver Band scooped three awards at the First Section London and Southern Counties Brass Band Competition in Stevenage on Sunday.

The band achieved first place overall, and Tim Pannell received an award for best cornet player. The basses also won the prize for their section.

The band will play at the national finals in Cheltenham in September. They will be promoted to the very highest division in banding in 2016, joining bands such as Grimethorpe and Brighouse.

Woman bitten by dog

A WOMAN was bitten by a dog in the centre of Haverhill.

The woman was walking on Withersfield Road, by Haverhill Cemetery, between 3.40pm and 3.45pm on Tuesday, March 17.

A man walked by with a small Staffie dog on a lead.

As the man and dog passed, the dog bit the woman, leaving a small gash on her hand.

Councillors' transport letter

COUNCILLORS Tony Brown and Julian Flood have written an open letter to Suffolk County Council about transport problems in Haverhill.

The councillors write that the situation is worse than in the 1950s and call for more co-operation with Cambridgeshire County Council.

Heating oil stolen from property

THREE hundred litres of heating oil, worth £1,200, have been stolen.

The oil was taken from a property in Cowlinge between Thursday, March 12 and Monday, March 16.

Row brews over cost of a cup of coffee

THE owner of an independent cafe was angry this week over a promotional sign which he said unfairly compared his prices to those at a nearby Wetherspoon's pub.

HANNAH MIRSKY

Harry Zachariou, who runs the Dejavu cafe and sandwich bar in Queen Street, was made aware of the poster, outside the Drabbet Smock Wetherspoons pub in Haverhill's Market Square when customers came into his cafe and told him.

The sign compared prices of coffee at both Dejavu and Wetherspoons, as well as Costa and the Bull Pub.

But Mr Zachariou said it was misleading and inaccurate because the price shown was for filter coffee at Wetherspoon's, compared to the price of an Americano, at Dejavu, which is a different kind of coffee. He said his coffees are also served with a biscuit.

Since the Weekly News contacted Wetherspoons about the poster, it has been taken down.

Mr Zachariou said: "It's just really amazing that such a big company would stoop to such bad, poor levels.

"You're comparing small, independent shops to a big company. It's absolutely scandalous that they need to do that."

A spokesman for Wetherspoons, Eddie Gershon, said: "The aim of the poster was to highlight the prices of coffee at our pub in the town against a number of other outlets serving coffee.

"We believe that this gives people in the town important information on pricing and allows them to make an informed decision on where they might wish to go in order to enjoy a coffee.

"The poster has been taken down simply because we thought it was the right thing to do at the moment."

Mr Zachariou complained to Suffolk Trading Standards earlier in the week.

Sasha Watson, community engagement officer at Suffolk Trading Standards, said: "Comparisons should not be misleading by giving false or misleading information, by omitting material information or by deceptive presentation.

"Comparisons should be fair and reasonable. They should compare like with like or with very similar products in terms of quality, composition and description.

"If there is a difference, then an unambiguous, easily identifiable and clearly legible explanation of the difference should be given.

"As the two coffees are different, ie Dejavu sells Americano, not filter coffee, this should be made clear on the poster."

MP hears about plans for trust

MP for West Suffolk Matthew Hancock paid a visit to a Haverhill high school last Friday to hear about plans for the future of the town's schoolchildren.

HANNAH MIRSKY

Mr Hancock visited Castle Manor School, where he met students there and pupils from Place Farm Primary Academy and Castle Manor Primary Academy.

They heard a presentation from Madleine Vigar, executive principal of the Castle Partnership Academy Trust, which runs Castle Manor and both primary schools.

Afterwards, Mr Hancock, who is currently a government business minister, spoke with the students about their hopes for the future.

He said: "I was extremely impressed by the young people I spoke to from Castle Partnership Academy Trust on Friday morning.

"It is vital that we support these students in their aspirations so they can get the best possible start in life. They were an asset to the trust and their schools."

Ethan Woodley, Castle Manor's head boy, said: "It was good to talk with Matthew Hancock about the election process for becoming head boy and about what he does on a day-to-day basis. Some parts of the process were similar in school and parliament."

Ms Vigar spoke in her presentation about future plans for the academy trust.

The trust started a five-year plan two years ago, which laid plans for a new curriculum.

The new curriculum has now been designed by staff from across the trust, and will be introduced in September.

It focuses on learning core skills across different subjects, and increases opportunities for different year groups to work with each other.

The trust is still planning to build a new all-through campus on the land at Castle Manor Academy.

This will include a community facility as well as space for learning.

Ms Vigar said: "We have a long-standing positive relationship with Matthew Hancock and it was wonderful to be able to update him on the fantastic developments here.

"This is an important time in the lives of our academies and we really need our community to get behind our plans for the future."

While visiting the school, Mr Hancock helped them put up birdboxes for the town's community clean-up.

He said: "It is fantastic that the local community is getting involved in improving the local area, making Haverhill a place to be proud of."

However, Councillor Maureen Byrne was sceptical at a council meeting on Tuesday, March 17, about Mr Hancock's involvement with the clean-up.

"He's the MP and he's coming to Haverhill, and we'll just see how many bags of litter he picks up," she said. "He'll be there for the photoshoot though."

AFTERMATH: The scene after the fire last Thursday morning

Tributes and donations after fatal house fire

HANNAH MIRSKY

THE community of Haverhill has raised over £7,200 for families affected by a devastating house fire last week, and paid tributes to a man who died in the blaze.

The fire, which began at around 2.30am last Thursday, March 19, at a terraced house in the town's Bellings Road, left one person dead and two houses destroyed.

The following day, floral tributes were left at the site.

The victim has been officially named by Suffolk police as Delroy Watson, who was 49.

Neighbours say he was a retired police officer who had recently had a baby boy. His friend and neighbour Stuart Smith said Mr Watson's wife and son were staying in London at the time of the fire.

Ollie Bell, another neighbour, paid tribute to Mr Watson.

"I haven't got a bad word to say about him. He will be really missed bcause he was a genuinely lovely guy."

MISSED: Delroy Watson who died in the fire

On Thursday, Matt Pawley created a page on fundraising website GoFundMe to help the families in the wake of the fire.

The page aims to raise money to help Mr Watson's family, and also Karrie and Adam Scarbrow and their son Harrison, 7, who lost their house in the fire.

The orginal fundraising target was £200 but within a day the page had raised over £6,500.

The total has crept up to over £7,200 and people have also donated children's clothes and toys.

Over 500 people have donated, and the page has been shared on social media over 500 times.

Neighbour Yvonne Wilde said: "I think it's great that the community is getting together to help people get through it.

"I think the money should be used to help all of the people who have been affected by the fire.

"There are the two burnt out houses, and then at least two houses to the right and two houses to the left which have been fenced off and the families are not allowed to return home."

The fire is not thought to be suspicious but a report will be prepared for the coroner.

Police are asking anyone who may have seen or heard anything in the area or who has information to call Suffolk Police on 101 quoting CAD 22 of March 19.

Hospice founder scoops lifetime award

THE founder of St Nicholas Hospice Care, which operates the Burton Centre in Haverhill, has received an award for his lifetime achievement.

Canon Richard Norburn was honoured at the Suffolk High Sheriff's Awards held at Haughley Park Barns near Stowmarket.

Canon Norburn, now 82, was inspired to set up the hospice in the early 1980s after witnessing three families struggling with terminal illness.

The hospice's first nurse began work in 1984 and now it provides care and support for those with life-limiting illnesses across West Suffolk and Thetford.

"I feel so humbled to have received this award. It is wonderful to have been part of the Hospice for all of this time and to have seen it grow," said Canon Norburn.

"I didn't expect to win and certainly not when they read out the CVs of the other people shortlisted."

Non-research park

I READ with some interest your recent article about the new Montessori nursery planned for the Research park development site.
This was a development which was "going to put Haverhill on the map". Indeed it has but for all the wrong reasons.
First we hear that "the development is not viable" without a pub/restaurant and a hotel (the hotel hasn't appeared).
Next we hear "the development isn't viable" without a hundred new homes.
What we have ended up with is a research park with no research facilities! I recently contacted Bury council and asked if they had enquiries for these facilities before planning was granted. They did not answer this in their response but instead stated they were "commited" to this development. When I asked if they actually had the names of any research companies that had even enquired about the site they again did not respond.
What we have, in reality, is yet another housing development with no improvements to the local infrastructure or amenities.
We have a research park with landscaped empty building plots!
Your article states "people visiting the research park will have somewhere to eat, somewhere to drink and somewhere to leave their children".
People cannot visit the research park because there isn't one. The people of Haverhill have been sold a lame duck.
Mr S Morris
Address supplied

I wasn't late!

REGARDING the front page article of this weeks Weekly News, I have made appointments at both of the surgeries mentioned and when I have 'turned up on time I have been told that I am late!
The time recorded on the computer does not correspond with my appointment card.
So non attendance is not always down to the patients.
Also if our MP had made more of an effort to retain the 'Rose & Crown' drop in centre, some of the present pressure on our wonderful GP's would have been eased.

Friends from Down Under visit school community cafe

A CAFE run by primary school children had visitors from the other side of the world last week.

Cafe Coupals is a monthly community event where Year Five pupils at Coupals Primary Academy serve up cakes and drinks and create their own tea room.

Treats they serve include chocolate cake, peach and manadrin cake and tea, coffee and milkshakes.

Pupils have their own roles, including managing, serving, and working the till.

This month they had customers from further afield than usual, as two members of the Australian Lions, a global community serving and fundraising organisation, came to visit.

The visitors, Jan and Charlie Leaney, were both retired teachers, and keen to see the school.

They popped in as part of a two-week visit to meet members of the UK Lions.

Their trip to the school was organised by Len Russell, who is president of the Haverhill Lions and a school governor for Coupals Primary Academy.

IN SAFE HANDS NOW: The saluki which was found abandoned and tied to a car

Dog found tied to car bumper and abandoned

A DOG was found abandoned and tied to the back of a car in West Wratting last week.

The male 2-year-old Saluki, who has since been named Louis, was spotted by the owner of the car around midnight on Tuesday, March 17.

He was found with his lead attached to the bumper of a car parked on the HIgh Street in the village.

He was thin and his coat was lucklustre. He also had ear mites and a bad cut on his foot.

The man called the police, who in turn called the RSPCA.

The dog was taken to a vet and then into RSPCA care. He did not have a microchip or tag and it is not known where he came from.

ADAM CARE

The RSPCA are now appealing for any information.

"It was so lucky that the car owner managed to spot poor Louis before he drove off," said RSPCA inspector Carrie O'Riordan.

"It was pitch black, and it would have been very easy for them to reverse or drive off without noticing the poor animal. He was not attached to anything secure.

"Louis is a lovely dog but was unsurprisingly completely terrified and distressed being abandoned as he was.

"He is still a bit dull and depressed but is in RSPCA care now and doing well.

"He has been given pain relief and a bandage and it is hoped that with a bit of love and care he can recover from his ordeal.

"Anyone with any information about how this dog came to be dumped in this callous and dangerous way should call us on 0300 123 8018."

Home intravenous service a success

MEDICAL patients who need an intravenous drip can go home from hospital, thanks to a new service that is freeing up beds.

West Suffolk Hospital introduced the home intravenous therapy service (HITS) last year.

It means that patients who need an IV drip but are otherwise fit for discharge can go home and have their medicine given to them each day by a visiting nurse from Suffolk Community Healthacre (SCH).

These might be patients who need antibiotics for conditions such as cellulitis or other infections.

Since being introduced, the service has freed up around 271 hospital bed days a month. This adds up to more than 3,200 bed days each year.

Lesley Standring, integration lead in medicine at West Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust, said:

"The service has also helped further improve the experience our patients have of their NHS care. All of the feedback we have received so far has been overwhelmingly positive and we are delighted that HITS has made such a big difference."

Patients who are treated using HITS remain under the hospital's management.

Their blood is also reviewed weekly by a team of specialist nurses, consultants, microbiologists and pharmacists so that any changes can be picked up quickly and action taken.

Thieves take boating equipment

THOUSANDS of pounds worth of equipment has been stolen from a boat in Withersfield.

The equipment included a first aid kit, a box of flares, and floating rescue ropes. Also stolen were a Baltic 316 slot lock, a VHS radio, and two engines.

Altogether, the equipment was worth around £2,550.

Exhibition for charity needs art

A CHARITY is organising a fundraising art exhibition - and it's inviting local artists to take part.

Haverhill bereavement charity My Blue Heart has organised the exhibition, which will take place from September 2 to September 27, at the Apex in Bury St Edmunds.

The artistic expression of loss is what has inspired the exhibition, but submissions on any subject that moves the artist are invited.

Submissions must be 2D, but prints, drawings, paintings, textiles and photographs are all welcome, and the gallery can accommodate large-scale artworks.

The artworks sold or auctioned off will raise money for children's cancer charity CLIC Sargent.

To find out more or submit your work, contact My Blue Heart on 07786 933563, or by email exhibition@mybluehart.co.uk .

Residents move in to new care home

A NEW care home welcomed its first residents last week.

HANNAH MIRSKY

Cleves Place in Millfields Way, Haverhill will be a home for up to 60 elderly people, providing residential, nursing and dementia care.

Construction began on Cleves Place in November 2013, and it officially opened its doors last Tuesday, March 17.

Place Court nursing home will be sending 29 residents to the new home, but they are being moved three or four at at time.

Care UK home manager Sharlene Van Tonder and her team have planned the move.

Ms Van Tonder said: "I have spent the last eight months really getting to know the residents and their relatives, so that my colleagues and I can ensure each resident's move goes smoothly and that all their needs, as well as their family's needs, are properly met.

"We are all looking forward to settling in and enjoying the new home together."

Once all the residents are moved in, the local community will be invited to the home to look around and meet the team.

Cleves Place will also be opening a day centre, Cleves Club, this May. The club will provide support for older people living in their own homes.

The new home was named Cleves Place by a resident of Place Court in October 2013, due to Haverhill's history with Anne of Cleves.

Councillor Alan Murray, cabinet member for health and adult care, Suffolk County Council, said: "The opening of Cleves Place is yet another stepping stone in realising the vision we had for the future of long term care in Suffolk.

"With the number of older people and those suffering with dementia in Suffolk set to double by 2030, it is essential that we have an appropriate provision in place that can support these ones to maintain physical fitness, make new friends and ensure their independence for longer.

"Cleves Place boasts great facilities and I am delighted, as were the residents, to be involved in the grand opening. I am sure residents will be very pleased with their new home."

For more information about Cleves Place care home or club call 0333 321 1985 or visit careuk.com/care-homes/cleves-place.

Youth skills worker receives national community award

ONE Haverhill's youth skills manager has received an award for her work creating opportunities for young people.

Karen Chapple's work was recognised at the Our Place awards in London on Friday, March 20.

Haverhill has received a grant as part of a community budgeting scheme called Our Place, and the awards recognise individuals who make sure Our Place projects succeed.

Karen was praised for her work with businesses, schools and JobCentrePlus in Haverhill, which has created over 80 apprenticeships in the town.

Karen said: "I am thrilled that my work has been recognised nationally by Our Place.

"I love my job and love helping and supporting young people fulfil their potential. I also have to praise the many businesses in Haverhill that have worked with me in creating new apprenticeships in the town for our young people."

Community clean-up a success

OVER fifty people turned out on Friday and Saturday to help clean up the streets of their town.

Haverhill residents collected gloves, litter pickers and bin-bags from the Haverhill Arts centre, and took part in a community clean-up to make their town shine.

Mayor of Haverhill Roger Andre was among the people out and about picking up litter.

He said: "It's about more than just litter picking, it's about maintaining the environment generally.

"And it's about transferring ownership of the issues to the community. It's our town, there's nothing to stop us cleaning it up.

"It's great to see so many people across the community getting involved. I hope we can encourage people to carry on."

HANNAH MIRSKY

At Castle Manor Academy, students and staff mounted birdboxes and bird feeders on trees outside the school, with the aim of making it a more pleasant place – for birds and visitors. They were helped by mayor Roger Andre and MP for West Suffolk Matthew Hanock, who was visiting the school.

Other groups getting involved included Haverhill Methodist Church and Burton End Primary School.

Also on the streets litterpicking were the management team of Haverhill's Tesco, who picked up litter along the old railway path by the store, down to Haverhill Leisure Centre.

The group was led by the Tesco community champion Claire Bowden, who said: "It's our community, and we are doing this just to keep it clean and tidy.

"A lot of it is Tesco's mess, but obviously we're not the ones who drop the litter."

Town clerk Colin Poole, who organised the clean-up, said: "It's been really busy and everyone's coming back buzzing, with tales of what they've found.

"The real thing is people enjoying themselves when they do a litter pick. If everyone has a good time, then hopefully they will be wanting to take part.

"It just shows how the community all rally round."

The litter-pickers and other cleaning equipment are now being kept permanently at the Arts Centre.

Anyone who wants to use these resources can contact the town council on 01440 712858.

Tyler, 10, rewarded for bravely helping sick dad

A schoolboy has been praised for staying cool and calm in an emergency after his dad was struck down at home by "crippling pain" following a recent kidney stone operation.

Ten-year-old Tyler D'Arcy-Jones called 999 and carefully followed instructions when his dad Lee fell ill.

East of England Ambulance Service call handler George Lock said Tyler followed all instructions, reassured his dad and made him comfortable before the ambulance arrived.

He said: "Tyler handled the situation in such a mature manner. He stayed so calm and listened to all my instructions. He was fantastic throughout the call and did everything I asked of him and more. It was a privilege listening to how calm and collected he was."

The Linton Heights Junior School pupil even called his mum Bianca and ensured his 2-year-old sister Daisy remained occupied so as not to get upset.

As a surprise during his school's achievement assembly on March 13 Tyler was presented with an award in recognition of his outstanding support.

Headteacher James Puxley said: "Everybody is very proud of Tyler. He's a fantastic pupil and I am really impressed at his quick-thinking and the level of maturity he showed."

Post office on the move: have a say on the plans

HANNAH MIRSKY

A POST office is planning to move to a new location – and now's your chance to have a say on the change.

The Post Office is beginning a six-week public consultation on the relocation of the Clements post office into the Londis at 1-2 Gloucester Road.

It is currently based in a pharmacy on Norton Road. The new site is 350 metres from the old site, accessible across level terrain.

If the move goes ahead, the new post office would have the same opening hours as the Londis, from 6am to 9pm Monday to Saturday, and 7am to 8pm on Sunday.

This would mean the post office would open 103 hours a week, which is 65.5 hours more than the current post office opens.

The Norton Road post office opens from 9am to 1pm and 2pm to 5.30pm Monday to Friday, and 9am to 12.30pm on Saturday. It does not open at all on Sundays.

The proposed post office would not have a car park directly outside, which the current one does. However, there is a car park within 10 metres of the Londis.

There would be space for a wheelchair and a hearing loop in the new branch.

The new post office would have a different style of layout to traditional post office counters.

Rather than screened-off booths, it would have two open-plan tills at the shop's retail counter.

The changes come as part of a national modernisation of over 8,000 post offices across the UK, made possible by £2bn investment in the Post Office network from the government.

Will Russell, Post Office regional manager, said: "We understand how important having a post office is to residents in Haverhill.

We are confident this new modern post office service will meet the needs of the local community and secure services for the future.

"This modernisation is part of a major investment programme, the largest in the history of the Post Office and marks a commitment to no more branch closure programmes."

The public consultation began on Wednesday, March 18 and will close on Wednesday, May 27.

To give your views, sent your comments by Freepost YOUR COMMENTS to Post Office Ltd, by email to comments@postoffice.co.uk, or call the Customer Helpline on 08457 22 33 44 or Textphone 08457 22 33 55.

You can also fill out the questionnaire at postofficeviews.co.uk, using the branch code 22611399.

NOMINATED: Sophie Spittle, far right, with Amy Sampson-Brown and Emma Rose

Student midwife nominated for national award

A STUDENT midwife from Haverhill has been nominated for a national award.

Sophie Spittle, 23, who studies at Anglia Ruskin University, has been nominated for the Student Midwife of the Year award at the Student Nursing Times Awards.

Two other students on her course, Emma Rose, 34, and Amy Sampson-Brown, 22, who both live in Cambridge, have also been nominated for the award.

All three are third-year students undertaking placements at the Rosie Hospital in Cambridge.

Sophie said: "I wasn't expecting to be shortlisted at all. Amy and Emma are absolutely brilliant student midwives and good friends of mine so I am really happy for them, they thoroughly deserve it.

"It means so much to be recognised though and I am really looking forward to the interview and showing the judges my personal journey through midwifery."

The awards ceremony will be held in London on May 7.

Skateboard theft

TWO snakeboard skateboards have been stolen from a shed in Cambridge Close, Haverhill.

The skateboards were taken between 5pm on Monday, March 16 and 5pm on Tuesday, March 17.

The thieves used a screwdriver to remove the hinges of the door of the shed and enter it.

They took the two skateboards, one of which was white, and one of which was red and grey, which were worth £80 together.

They did not take anything else.

Unlimited Holiday

Claire Sleep, an Employment Solicitor at Ashton KCJ, offers some practical advice.

What does an East Anglian law firm have in common with Virgin and Netflix?

The answer is that a new holiday policy has been implemented for employees at East Anglian firm Ashton KCJ, similar to that previously put into place by the Virgin Group and extremely similar to a Paid Time Off (PTO) policy that has been operated by Netflix. Ashton KCJ have put into place a PTO policy which works by employees being able to take time off as holiday at any time for as long as they want so long as managers know where they are and their work is covered.

Ashton KCJ see this policy as an enlightened one that helps to motivate staff and offer a better approach to looking after staff welfare. This is because it allows hard working employees to take time off that they feel they need as oppose to imposing arbitrary limits. It allows flexibility within the workforce.

Other reasons for putting a PTO policy into place would be to eliminate the problem with employees looking to take a large amount of holiday at the end of the holiday year to avoid it being lost. Secondly, it allows time to be properly recorded as holiday or sickness absence and for there to be no blur between the two in terms of employees taking time off as sickness absence which should in fact have been booked off as holiday. Thirdly, it is helpful to employees, especially those who have other caring responsibilities. Some employees tend to keep days "in reserve" just in case there is some unforeseen eventuality. Therefore this policy removes the need to keeps these days in reserve and allows employees to properly plan for holiday.

This is one of the HR policies being implemented by Ashton KCJ to make it an employer of choice. Our HR team work closely with our employment lawyers on a number of different projects. Therefore if you consider that this policy is of interest to you or if you wish to discuss a HR project, please contact me.

Stunning gardens you must see

AS the Easter holidays loom, National Gardens Scheme chief executive George Plumptre recommends some stunning gardens to visit, raising money for a good cause in the process.

When school's out for Easter, it's time for the family to venture outdoors – and there are some great gardens to visit over the holidays, with the added bonus of raising money for charity while you do it.

With the National Gardens Scheme Yellow Book 2015 in hand, you can leaf through a plethora of privately-owned gardens which open their doors at certain times of the year and give visitors a chance to view garden owners' individual creations, with proceeds going towards nursing, caring and charities.

More than 70 gardens will be open over Easter in aid of the NGS.

"We encourage a very diverse range of gardens," the charity's chief executive George Plumptre explains, "from really big country gardens of many acres to gardens in towns and cities. Currently our smallest garden measures five by eight metres."

Allotment holders, schools and villagers in the same streets all participate. Residents from one street in Worthing – Ambrose Place – have put their road on the map thanks to their show-stopping rectangular back gardens, described as a 'horticultural phenomenon' and influenced by an eclectic mix of styles, from Morocco, Provence and the Alhambra to the more traditional English cottage garden.

SCHOOL'S OUT: So why not visit the splendour of Ambrose Place?

Many owners will only open their garden once or twice during the year, while other, bigger operators devote specific days to the NGS as a fund-raising initiative.

"We have a group of well-known gardens across the country open to visitors, such as The Easton Walled Gardens in Lincolnshire, which open throughout spring and summer and will have certain days when all the money raised goes to the NGS. But the majority of gardens only open in aid of us because they enjoy welcoming visitors and love their garden being admired and raising money for charities."

More than 70 gardens in England and Wales will open during Easter in aid of the NGS, as well as some Scottish gardens, served by its sister organisation Scotland's Gardens. Plumptre's recommendations include:

■ Spetchley Park Gardens, Worcs (spetchleygardens.co.uk): Open for NGS Good Friday, April 3: "They have an Easter walk with really gorgeous daffodils, beautiful woodland garden and a lovely lake to walk around. Lots of NGS gardens are small and plant-orientated, but Spetchley is a garden for everybody."

■ 61 Fountainhall Road, Edinburgh (scotlandsgardens.org): Open for Scotland's Gardens on Easter Sunday, April 5: In this large walled town garden, trees and shrubs form an architectural backdrop to a wide variety of flowering plants. The growing collection of hellebores and trilliums and variety of late blooming flowers provide interest from early March to October. In addition, there are now several alpine beds which include a large collection of Sempervivums.

IDYLLIC: Garden of delights abound across Britain if you know where to look, like this Easter walk at Spetchley Park Gardens in Worcestershire

■ Congburn Arboretum, Edmondsley, Durham (congburnnurseries.co.uk): Open for NGS Easter Sunday, April 5: An Easter egg trail should keep the kids occupied in this beautiful arboretum which boasts lovely woodland walks, drifts of daffodils and new planting among the established trees.

■ The Burrows Gardens, Brailsford, Derbyshire (burrowsgardens.com): Open for NGS Easter Monday, April 6: Exotic rare plants and trees are displayed alongside immaculate lawns in five acres of stunning garden. "This has a really good mixture of different designs and plants. It's a very ambitious garden which is intriguing – there are lots of places for children to hide."

■ The Walled Garden, Knill, Powys (01544 267 411): Open for NGS Easter Monday, April 6: "This garden has a lovely riverside walk where there will be lots of flowering shrubs and tulips and a beautiful walled garden within four acres of countryside setting." You'll also see primulas, a bog garden and small grotto, as well as mixed and herbaceous borders."

■ The gardens in England and Wales can be found in The Yellow Book 2015 (Constable, £12.99), a guide to almost 4,000 gardens open to the public on behalf of the NGS. A similar publication for Scotland's Gardens can be found at scotlandsgardens.org.

the GUIDE

Alan Carr chatty man

CHATTY Man is back! Thank goodness, Graham Norton is good, but Carr is the number 1 telly chat show host in our opinion.

Also, for this latest series, he's pulled off the seemingly impossible: an interview with AND performance from Morrissey.

It all got announced amidst a flurry of press after he was outed as the true voice of James Bond on Comic Relief (watch the video, it's fantastic), and then, allegedly, refused to wash his hands for a week after touching Kim Kardashian (according to The Mirror).

What a wonderful man.

Famed for his snappy wit, gappy teeth and wardrobe of kaleidoscopic suits (seriously, some of them are magnificently gaudy), Carr is one comic whose career doesn't seem to ever dip.

The 38-year-old Dorset born funny guy grew up in Northampton (his dad's Newcastle United's chief football scout), before going on to carve out a career in quips and laughs.

He won the BBC New Comedy Award for stand-up in 2001 and hasn't stopped winning things since, including a BAFTA for best entertainment performance in 2011.

Deservedly so, Friday nights wouldn't be the same without him spouting innuendos-a-go-go, making tongue-in-cheek observations and grilling everyone from Lady Gaga to Justin Timberlake and One Direction on Channel 4.

Now he'll be chatting away at Cambridge Corn Exchange on his Yap, Yap, Yap! tour, his first excursion into theatres in four years.

Would it be too silly to say Yay, Yay, Yay!?

■ Alan Carr: Yap, Yap, Yap!, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Friday, April 3 – Saturday, April 4 at 8pm. Tickets £32.50 from (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk.

Stoppard's Arcadia

THIS version of the time-hopping Arcadia is a new collaboration between the Theatre Royal Brighton Productions and English Touring Theatre.

Don't know it? No worries, in brief, the Oscar winning (Shakespeare in Love) playwright and screenwriter Tom Stoppard wrote it in 1993 and debuted, what would soon become a modern-day masterpiece, at the National Theatre.

Now, the Olivier Award-winning Arcadia is coming to Cambridge Arts Theatre, to envelop you in a shifting narrative that swirls back and forth between 1809, 1812 and the present day.

It's set in a stately home called Sidley Park in Derbyshire, and the cast of characters spill and intermingle from the decades that they lived in the house. Anchoring the tale are Thomasina, a bright, precocious pupil who unearths a truth far ahead of the time, and academics Hannah and Bernard who are wrangling in the present day, trying to piece together Thomasina's life.

Arcadia might sound like a sprawling mess, tripping through centuries, but, if the rave reviews are anything to go by, a magnificently streamlined piece of writing and production.

Also, there's a tortoise involved, apparently signifying the clinging on of life, endurance and interminable suffering. Morbid, yes, but it's a real life tortoise, so we are, of course, won over entirely.

■ Arcadia, Cambridge Arts Theatre, Monday, March 30 – Saturday, April 4, at 7.45pm. Tickets £15-£30 from (01223) 503333 / cambridgeartstheatre.com.

ON STAGE: Arcadia at the Cambridge Arts Theatre next week.

Gardens to inspire

WHEN school's out for Easter, it's time for the family to venture outdoors – and there are some great gardens to visit over the holidays, with the added bonus of raising money for charity while you do it.

With the National Gardens Scheme Yellow Book 2015 in hand, you can leaf through a plethora of privately-owned gardens which open their doors at certain times of the year and give visitors a chance to view garden owners' individual creations, with proceeds going towards nursing, caring and gardening charities.

More than 70 gardens will be open over Easter in aid of the NGS.

by Hannah Stephenson

"We encourage a very diverse range of gardens," the charity's chief executive George Plumptre explains, "from really big country gardens of many acres to gardens in towns and cities. Currently our smallest garden measures five by eight metres."

Allotment holders, schools and villagers in the same streets all participate. Residents from one street in Worthing – Ambrose Place – have put their road on the map thanks to their show-stopping rectangular back gardens, which have been described as a 'horticultural phenomenon', influenced by an eclectic mix of styles, from Morocco, Provence and the Alhambra to the more traditional English cottage garden.

Many owners will only open their garden once or twice during the year, while other, bigger operators devote specific days to the NGS as a fund-raising initiative.

"We have a group of well-known gardens across the country which are open to visitors lots of the time, such as The Easton Walled Gardens in Lincolnshire, which open throughout spring and summer and will have certain days when all the money they've raised goes to the NGS. But the majority of gardens only open in aid of us because they enjoy welcoming visitors and love their garden being admired and raising money for charities."

More than 70 gardens in England and Wales will open during Easter in aid of the NGS, as well as some Scottish gardens, served by its sister organisation Scotland's Gardens. Plumptre's recommendations include:

■ Spetchley Park Gardens, Worcs (www.spetchleygardens.co.uk): Open for NGS Good Friday, April 3: "They have an Easter walk with really gorgeous daffodils, beautiful woodland garden and a lovely lake to walk around. With lots of NGS gardens, it helps if you're a gardener because they're small and plant-orientated, but Spetchley is a garden for everybody."

■ 61 Fountainhall Road, Edinburgh (www.scotlandsgardens.org): Open for Scotland's Gardens on Easter Sunday, April 5: In this large walled town garden, trees and shrubs form an architectural backdrop to a wide variety of flowering plants. The growing collection of hellebores and trilliums and a large variety of late blooming flowers provide interest from early March to late October. In addition, there are now several alpine beds which include a large collection of Sempervivums.

■ Congburn Arboretum, Edmondsley, Durham (www.congburnnurseries.co.uk): Open for NGS Easter Sunday, April 5: An Easter egg trail should keep the kids occupied in this beautiful arboretum which boasts lovely woodland walks, drifts of daffodils and new planting among the established trees.

■ The Burrows Gardens, Brailsford, Derbyshire, pictured, (www.burrowsgardens.com): Open for NGS Easter Monday, April 6: Exotic rare plants and trees are displayed alongside immaculate lawns in five acres of stunning garden. "This has a really good mixture of different designs and plants. Some design is Italian, and it has some interesting rare plants. It's a very ambitious garden which is intriguing – there are lots of places for children to hide."

■ The Walled Garden, Knill, Powys (01544 267 411): Open for NGS Easter Monday, April 6: "This garden has a lovely riverside walk where there will be lots of flowering shrubs and tulips and a beautiful walled garden within four acres of countryside setting." You'll also see primulas, a bog garden and small grotto, as well as mixed and herbaceous borders.

■ The gardens in England and Wales can be found in The Yellow Book 2015 (Constable, £12.99), a guide to almost 4,000 gardens open to the public on behalf of the NGS. A similar publication for Scotland's Gardens can be found at www.scotlandsgardens.org

■ Arthur Miller confronts the American dream in the National Theatre's live broadcast of A VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE, a dark and passionate tale of longshoreman Eddie, his Sicilian cousins and his beautiful niece. Mark Strong leads a stellar cast in this production that sold out even before it opened at the Young Vic last spring. Not to be missed, showing today at 7pm.

■ Irish Country singer SHAWN CUDDY celebrates his 25th anniversary in the business and continues to go from strength to strength. He has supported Johnny Cash and Foster and Allen in his time and will be joined on Friday, March 27, by Brian Mann who presents the Ultimate Country Radio Show. It starts at 7.30pm.

■ Love is in the air, it must be spring! Following on from the success of last year's fayre, the 2015 HAVERHILL WEDDING FAYRE will take place on Sunday, March 29, from 11am to 4pm. The fayre will bring together a fantastic group of 30 of the very best specialist suppliers to give you a wonderful choice for your special day. Easy parking, with free entry to the fayre.

■ A recorded NT Live broadcast of BEHIND THE BEAUTIFUL FOREVERS

VENUE: Haverhill Arts Centre

on Tuesday, March 31, at 7pm sees India surging with global ambition. But beyond the luxury hotels surrounding Mumbai airport lies a makeshift slum, full of people with plans of their own. With Meera Syal, and based on the non-fiction book by Pulitzer Prize-winner Katherine Boo.

■ Theatre of Widdershins bring THE MAGIC PORRIDGE POT AND OTHER TASTY TREATS to the arts centre on Wednesday, April 1, at 2pm with lots of fun for ages 3 plus. On the menu is a trio of traditional and tasty tales to tantalise and tease. For starters, the magic pot which won't stop producing porridge. The main course is a delicious soup made from the scrummiest stone in the world and for pudding (if you can catch it) there is a walking, talking Gingerbread Man, who is just asking to be munched! These three old yarns are served with unexpected spices and quirky flavours, puppets and original music. Bon appetite!

■ The stars of LDN WRESTLING are back on Thursday, April 2, at 7.30pm with an evening of rip-roaring professional wrestling. Are you ready to rumble? Featuring the top stars of LDN including the popular champion Travis, the Duke of London Jonathon Hardwick and northern sensation Andy O'Sullivan. If you've been before you know how good it gets, if you haven't then give it a try as the kids will be talking about it for weeks!

■ On the cinema front there is BOYHOOD (15), re-released following its nomination for six Oscars, showing on Saturday, March 28, at 7.30pm. The film was shot periodically over a 12 year period and follows Mason's life from the ages of six to 18. Alfred Molina and John Lithgow star in LOVE IS STRANGE (15) on Monday, March 30, at 7.30pm. Long-term New York lovers Ben and George embrace the new legality of gay marriage by getting hitched, only to find George sacked by his intolerant employer. And for the small, and the not so small people, SHAUN THE SHEEP MOVIE (U) is showing on Thursday, April 2, at 10.30am and Tuesday, April 7, at 2.30pm. After getting into a bit of a pickle involving Mossy Bottom's uptight farmer, a caravan and a very steep hill, Shaun finds himself having to rescue the farmer from the big city, with the help of his flock and the grumpy sheepdog Bitzer.

■ The Arts Centre will be closed on Good Friday and Easter Monday, Happy Egg Hunting!

■ LISTINGS
■ Thursday, March 26, at 7pm NT Live, live broadcast A VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE £15/£12.50/£10

Agila wins reliability poll

BRITISH and French brands produce Europe's most reliable cars, according to the latest research by Warranty Direct's Reliability Index.

With the 85th Geneva Motor Show displaying the latest automotive technology closing its doors at the end of last week, Warranty Direct has revealed which are Europe's most reliable models. The vehicles analysed were an average of five years old with mileages of around 50,000.

British brand, Vauxhall, topped the table with its diminutive Agila model the most reliable European-badged car on the road.

French manufacturers, Peugeot and Citroen completed the top three, with their similarly small 107 and C1 superminis.

THE VAUXHALL AGILA: Most reliable car in Europe

Swedish, Spanish, German and Czech brands also won places in the top 10 reliability rankings with Volvo, Seat, Volkswagen, Smart and Skoda.

Vauxhall's Agila is most likely to incur issues with its axle and suspension, accounting for an average of 30 per cent of its faults. The cooling and heating system is responsible for 44 per cent of the Peugeot 107's downtime; with fellow French carmaker Citroen finding most of the issues in its C1 derive from the electrics.

Volvo S40 drivers report more axle and suspension faults, with a third suffering complications. Warranty Direct's data reveals Smart's Fortwo most frequently faces engine issues, accounting for more than one in three of its breakdowns.

Warranty Direct managing director, David Gerrans, said: "It's good to see a British manufacturer at the top of the table, especially at a time when Britain's automotive industry is flying high. Our data also highlights that Swedish, Czech, Spanish and French carmakers are all more reliable than their often celebrated German counterparts, which will surprise some consumers, who may still assume that German cars are the most durable."

At the other end of the scale, the Audi RS6 is Europe's most unreliable vehicle, with data indicating it'll break down at least once a year. Four out of the five most unreliable models are produced by German manufacturers.

The higher the Reliability Index score, the worse the car is – the lower the score, the better and the average RI number is 100. For more information on Warranty Direct's Reliability Index, visit reliabilityindex.com/what-is.

BMW: Efficiency benefits

X5 gets i8 drivetrain

BMW has joined the plug-in hybrid rush with its first 'mainstream' effort following the amazing hype surrounding the i8 sports car.

The petrol-electric drivetrain has been put into the X5 xDrive40e, where its efficiency benefits can have the biggest impact. Official tests have recorded average fuel consumption of 85.6mpg, but the EU's current tests fail to take into account the electricity used by the plug-in hybrid system.

That consumption measures 15.3kWh, but meaningful comparisons with miles per gallon have yet to be standardised in any European market. To its credit, BMW has been honest about the likely 25-26mpg return that owners will see after longer motorway cruises when the batteries are flat.

It will go on sale in autumn with prices due in the summer.

HERALD: Popularity is based on simplicity and practicality

Haywards welcomes return of classics

MIKE SCIALOM

THE classic and custom made motorcycle market is thriving this spring, according to Haywards, the Girton-based independent motorcycle retailer.

"There's a huge trend towards going to the classics and for the custom scene," says general manager Andrew Chapman. "Royal Enfield is coming on leaps leaps and bounds – Guy Martin is riding one across India at the moment for Channel 4, we've got that one on sale."

That's the Bullet 500 which retails for £3,995 on the road. It's Royal Enfield's entry-level bike, a 500cc retro-look classic with a two-year warranty.

"Royal Enfield and Herald are two fastest-growing brands, and Herald, which has just the 125cc and 250cc options, is based in Huntingdon so it's easy to get parts for that. Prices start £1,722 for the 125cc, then after that the Classic 250cc is £2,843."

"The Herald is going really well since they brought out a 250cc version," adds sales manager David Stanley. "It's a nice step up from a 125cc and also for returning riders, plus it's a bit more realistic in an era where there's lots of 20mph limits and cities are so built up, and of course there's economy on top of that."

Haywards sells a range which includes Royal Enfield, Herald, battery bicycles, plus the firm is agents for the Piaggio range which includes Guzzi, Vespa, Aprillo and Piaggio. Finally, you can also buy Rieju products from the site – Rieju are Spanish-built 50-125cc geared motorcycles with prices starting at £2,371 and going up to £3,471."

Andrew says the site is being "remodelled", with the end result being a Classic Courtyard with the classic bikes on display along with the firm's history, including a photograph of Haywards' founder. "We've got a picture going back to 1867 with the original Mr Hayward so we're using that," says Andrew of the Classic Courtyard which is due to open next month. Haywards' Girton site has been open since 1933.

While bikes are the main products, accessories on sale include panniers, engine bars, windscreens and heated handlebar grips.

Haywards has a staff of seven, of whom three – Nick, Rod and Jim – are in the workshop. The firm has more than 50 new and used motorcycles on sale, with prices starting at around £1,000.

For details go to haywards.co.uk, email sales@haywards.co.uk or call (01223) 276128.

MORTGAGE ADVISOR – Little Chesterford, Essex

A new exciting opportunity has arisen to join our society as a Mortgage Advisor. We are looking to appoint an experienced person to achieve agreed business targets through the provision of a comprehensive and compliant regulated mortgage and non-regulated protection package advisory service. You will be required to meet customer's lending needs within a direct sales environment for new customers and for those customers varying an existing contract.

The ideal candidate will need to achieve business targets; adhere to the appropriate regulation & legislation relevant to the role. A professional and efficient approach is needed when dealing with customers, recognising their financial service needs and how we can help to meet these and ensuring they are all processed promptly and monitored thereafter on a regular basis. You will proactively maintain relationships with customers with a view to their satisfaction with the product or opportunities to provide further service. You must also be keen on continuous professional development (CPD), including market awareness and technical knowledge. Full CeMap (or MAQ equivalent) and with a proven competence over 12 months or more advising sales of regulated mortgages and associated protection products.

Benefits include: A starting salary in the region of £42,000 per annum, bonus scheme, company car, Private Healthcare, 35 days annual leave, a comprehensive initial training programme and the opportunity to develop to your maximum potential.

How to Apply - For more information and a job description please contact Human Resources or email your CV to careers@saffronbs.co.uk.

Trusty Steed on song at March

VICKY Steed and Tina Bunch did the business for Haverhill as they ran out 4-2 winners at March in East Women's League, Division 3NW(S).

They both bagged braces, thanks to assistance from Jennifer Bradnam and Cara Ainsworth.

Both teams battled hard in cold conditions, and it was the last match of the campaign for the ones, who finish in mid-table and will be aiming to improve further next season.

It was also a good day for Haverhill's twos as midfielder Emily Page-Blair pulled the strings in their 6-1 success over Wisbech II in 4NW(S).

She was among goals in the big win, and she also helped to create goals for her colleagues.

The side had already clinched the championship and promotion after a brilliant season which has seen them win all 21 of their league fixtures so far.

They still have Ely City II to play and will be hoping to wrap up another success to complete the perfect 100 per cent record.

Hornets are buzzing after debut tournament

NEWLY-FORMED Haverhill Hornets Junior Hockey Club had their first taste of competition against Bury St Edmunds.

Three Hornets teams took part, and undaunted by their challenge, having only taken up the sport this season, the first of the sides took the lead from an excellent drive down the right by Henry Sidebottom, which was well put away by Isaac Strid.

Further goals from Henry Sidebottom and Tamsin Harris and solid defending by Harry Cohen in subsequent games saw this Haverhill side into the final, in which they narrowly lost to Bury 1-0.

In the same tournament, the two other Haverhill sides showed great determination and some excellent play, notably from Felicity Payne, who stopped a certain Bury goal.

Amanda Stopps, who set up Hornets, said: "It was an excellent morning of hockey, played in high spirits.

"Everyone had lots of fun and showed so much improvement as the games progressed.

"It was fantastic to see so many children involved and we hope that this is just the beginning of great things for the Hornets."

Any boys or girls of primary school age interested in playing hockey in Haverhill should contact 07887 756128.

Sting in the tail: Haverhill Hornets players took part in their first competition

Chapman triumphs in Rosebowl final

PAUL Chapman's three under par round saw him clinch victory in Haverhill's Rosebowl Final.

Chapman shot nett 67 to take the competition, which saw all medal division winners from the 2014/15 season taking part.

Simon Cousins finished runner-up on 69 and Dan Wilkins was one shot back in third.

Wayne Smith was victorious in the midweek medal final after scoring nett 68 to win the Bob Hutchinson Cup.

Tim Daniels was second on countback from Andy Fish, who had the lowest gross of 75, after both carded nett 71.

The seniors' Bleasdale Cup was won by Pat Wellstead and Charlie Tapp.

Ian Andrew, Alan Whitfield, Howard Wood and Dave Parson won the Texas scramble, which was held on the same day.

The 2014 Kernutt Cup was awarded to Pat Sheehy for his work supporting the seniors section.

Golf

Linda Alexander won the ladies' midweek stableford after scoring 33 points and finishing five clear of the field

Mary Sail came in second on 28 and Jackie Condon was third with 25.

Condon followed that up with victory in the Saturday stableford on a score of 26. Fish took second on countback from Anna Fairhead as both scored 20.

Sheila Price and Fairhead exited the Daily Mail Foursomes in the first round, losing the match away to Newton Green on the 17th hole.

The ladies halved their friendly away to Hintlesham. There were wins for Chris Grainger and Val Shipp (one up), and Norma Humphrey and Siobhan Harrison (4&2).

But Price and Sheila Playle, and Ann Thompson and Pat Wellstead lost their matches 3&2 and 4&2 respectively.

Junior captain Dan Walker won the juniors' March stableford with 19 points, with the event played over nine holes.

Josh Hulyer was second on countback from Fiona Stokes after both scored 12.

Stokes was part of a team which finished third in the recent Suffolk schools girls event at Hintlesham, returning an individual score of 38 points.

Club champion Lewis Whiting will make Haverhill his home club, being eligible to represent them and Suffolk in competitions.

Whiting, who is also a member of Gog Magog, made the announcement at Haverhill men's presentation evening after a year which saw him get down to scratch handicap and selected to play for England in his age group.

Coming home: Club champion Lewis Whiting

Rovers clinch deserved point

HAVERHILL Rovers gave a much-improved performance when they took on Ipswich Wanderers in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division, coming away with a point after a 1-1 draw.

Rovers made the trip after suffering an 8-1 loss at home in the reverse fixture 18 days earlier.

But this time they were more convincing, even though it did take them a while to get going.

The hosts enjoyed the early chances, with Rovers' only reply coming when Simon Newnes' volley was saved.

Ipswich continued to apply pressure in the second half but were unable to seriously test Rovers keeper Jack Cherry.

Rovers held firm until the final whistle and deservedly took a point from the match.

Haverhill Borough also claimed a point after a 1-1 draw at home to March Town United in the First Division.

Both teams had chances in the first half, but after a goalless 45 minutes, Lee Salmons broke the deadlock for Borough in the 50th minute.

The hosts dominated for the next 20 minutes, but March drew level in the 70th minute.

They won a disputed free kick, and while Borough players argued with the referee, the visitors quickly restarted and scored the equaliser.

Aaron Forshaw had a chance to win the game late on, but his shot from six yards hit the post before rolling wide.

Youth football

Jenkinson's treble seals Wratting win

GEORGE Jenkinson blasted three as West Wratting beat Fulbourn Falcons 7-1 in Cambridge & District Colts 15A.

Daniel Cordwell, Tom Pluck, Joshua Santry and Toby Fellows got one each.

Strikes from Shane Gambin, Brandon McKay and David Scott, plus an own goal, saw Haverhill Rovers beat Tuddenham Rangers 4-1 in 15C.
